We collect data about you, your computer, and your online behaviour when you visit our website. You can read the details of the information we collect, how we process the data, what it is used for, who has access to it, and who you can contact about the collected data below.

Furthermore, you accept when visiting our website that we will process your personal data according to this personal data policy.

Overall

Danish Energy Consulting is the data controller of your personal data. You have the right to be informed of which of your personal data we process. Furthermore, you can at any given time object to the data being used. You can also withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data. If your data that has been processed is incorrect, you have the right for it to be corrected or deleted. Please contact us at: kontakt@danskenergiraadgivning.dk.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files that are stored in your web browser and recognised by the website on recurring visits. This makes individualised information for your browser possible. A cookie can contain text, numbers or other things; however, it will never contain personal data. Cookies are not a program and cannot contain a virus.

It is possible to delete or disable cookies. See instructions here: <https://www.wikihow.com/Disable-Cookies>
If you delete or disable cookies, ads will be less relevant to you and more frequent. You can also risk that the website does not work optimally, and that there are content that you cannot access.

Purpose and Disclosure of Information

Data about your usage is regularly logged when you use www.danishenergyconsulting.com. The primary purpose of this is in-house analysis. This gives us an opportunity to continuously improve our user experience. Typically, we collect and process the following types of data through the service Google Analytics: A unique ID and technical data about your computer, tablet or phone, your IP address, geographical location, and which pages you click on (interests). Likewise, we use Google Adwords for remarketing.

Security and Handling of Personal Data

According to the Danish Data Protection Act, your personal data should be kept secured and confidential. At Danish Energy Consulting, we save your personal data on computers with limited access, placed in controlled facilities. Access to and disclosure of personal data is only done by selected and trusted employees and third parties.
